

Gillies Gas Services Care Plan 4 Terms & Conditions

Care Plan 4
Annual service plus free repairs

Introduction

The Gillies Gas Services Care Plan 4 provides cover for repairs to gas central heating systems, and a yearly safety and performance inspection, designed to ensure your system and appliance is safe and in good working order. We provide this service to domestic customers for home central heating systems up to 70kW.

What parts does my Gillies Gas Services Care Plan 4 Contract cover?

Under the agreement the following parts of your central heating system are covered.

Boiler parts; radiators and valves with or without thermostats; room, hot water and frost thermostats; time clock or programmer; circulating pump and valves and motorised valves.

The issue of a gas safety certificate/Landlords record, once in a twelve month period.

What can I expect for my money?

You can expect us to provide you with a safe, excellent quality service to repair and maintain all equipment covered by the agreement.

Although we assume that most customers will be able to carry out adjustments detailed in “user’s instructions” ie. removing air from radiators, topping up pressure etc, we will always be available with help and advice if you need us.

Breakdown cover

We aim to provide a fast, reliable and efficient service, and wherever possible, we will provide a same day service.

What happens if we find something wrong with your system or appliance during the initial safety inspection?

If our inspection reveals a problem with your installation, then before we agree to accept you on to our Care Plan, we would inform you of the work that is required to be done. We may have to take action to “make safe” the installation. We would also provide you with an estimate of the likely cost to carry out the work required. The costs involved in the above inspection and reporting may be chargeable to you.

If we carry out the yearly safety and performance inspection, during this initial visit, and subsequently do not accept you on to our Care Plan, we will deduct the costs involved in this visit from any monies refunded to you. In the event of you opting to pay by standing order, we will send you an invoice for this amount.

During our initial safety inspection we will be seeking to establish the following:-

- That the appliance and installation are safe.
- That the appliance and installation meet the relevant standards and have been fitted in compliance with the current applicable regulations by a suitably qualified person.
- That any replacement parts that are required for the maintenance of the system or appliance are still readily available and not obsolete.
- That the system is in good condition and working order.
- That no parts of the system (including pipes, electrical wiring and individual components) are difficult to gain access to safely, or are impossible or impracticable to maintain because of where they have been positioned or the methodology employed in their fitting.

What if replacement parts are required?

We will endeavour to do all that we can to supply suitable replacement parts for your appliance, assuming these are still readily available from the manufacturer. We may alternatively use an approved part that has been reconditioned if it satisfies the necessary criteria to match the replacement part required. We will endeavour to do all that we can to source the part quickly and ensure that it is fitted without any undue delay. There may on occasions be circumstances, depending on the age of the appliance, where we will be unable to carry out the necessary repair if we are unable to obtain a suitable replacement part or an acceptable alternative. Please be aware that the availability of spares is controlled by the manufacturer.

What is not covered under my Gillies Gas Services Care Plan 4?

- Carrying out any work that is deemed necessary as a result of aggressive water which gives rise to corrosion or hard water scale in the system, which creates a detrimental chemical reaction within the system (ie sludge).
- Replacement of the existing central heating appliance, if new or reconditioned replacement parts that are necessary to ensure its proper functioning are not readily available.
- Remedying any faults or other problems that have arisen as a direct result of an inappropriate original design of the system, or the methodology of installation.
- Carrying out repairs to any appliance casing, decorative parts, paint work, enamelled surface or other damage which does not affect the way the system operates.
- Any part of the system (including pipes, electrical wiring and individual components) that are difficult to gain access to safely, or are impossible or impracticable to maintain because of where they have been positioned or the methodology employed in their fitting.
- The gas supply pipe work from the meter to the boiler.
- Any part of the flue system that is concealed or buried within the structure of the building, or any flue that is not part of the appliance.
